

COURSES AND TRAININGS: FOR DYCD-FUNDED PROVIDERS FOR SUMMER - WINTER 2010

UPCOMING TRAINING PROGRAMS:

July
7th,
2010

MOTIVATIONAL MAGIC: CREATIVE FACILITATION STRATEGIES FOR THE WORKFORCE PROFESSIONAL

This training focuses on best curriculum facilitation skills and engagement strategies for practitioners working with job seekers who are disconnected and hard to retain. Participants will identify the essential traits of an effective facilitator by using a variety of training methods for crafting fun-filled, interactive workshops. Practitioners will be challenged to think outside the box to develop and deliver workshops that promote team building, competition and exciting opportunities to learn by doing.

August
4th & 11th
2010

BEYOND PAYSTUBS & METROCARDS: RETENTION STRATEGIES THAT GET RESULTS

These two sessions will focus on best curriculum facilitation skills and engagement strategies for practitioners working with job seekers who are disconnected and hard to retain. Participants will identify the essential traits of an effective facilitator by using a variety of training methods for crafting fun-filled, interactive workshops. Practitioners will be challenged to think outside the box to develop and deliver workshops that promote team building and exciting opportunities to learn by doing.

Oct
26th &
Nov 2nd
2010

DIAMONDS IN THE ROUGH: PREPARING YOUTH FOR THE JOB SEARCH PROCESS

Looking for a job IS a job . . . and like any job, it can be done well or it can be done poorly. In New York City's fiercely competitive labor market, where over 200,000 individuals are looking for work at any given time . . .

Throughout this two-day course, you will develop the nuts-and-bolts that every workforce development practitioner needs to move youth to success across the eight phases of the employment continuum – regardless of skill level and background.

July
20th,
2010

THE ART OF ASSESSMENT: TOOLS TO EVALUATE SKILLS & ABILITIES

The national recession has pushed workforce development into the spotlight, and new times require new approaches to assisting those in need of employment. Join WPTI to hear from a distinguished set of speakers about new programmatic approaches, new policies, new funding sources and new initiatives that help us better serve young adults as they enter or plan to enter the workforce.

Sept
22nd & 29th
2010

JOB DEVELOPMENT BOOT CAMP: LESSONS FROM THE FIELD

This course will cover the basic skills every job developer should know. Whether it's their first day on the job or they just need a refresher, job developers will join us for a better understanding of the labor market in order to create an employer prospecting plan, develop the ability to articulate what services they can provide to employers, learn techniques to market and sell their services, engage employers quickly and develop long-term relationships, and manage damage control when placements go badly.

Nov
16th, 2010
9AM - 1PM

PITCH WITH PERSUASION: SHARPENING YOUR EMPLOYER ENGAGEMENT SKILLS

Special half-day workshop

How do you convince employers to hire young people? The truth is, there is no one "perfect" script - it's about developing your voice, honing your listening skills and creating your own "pitch" style. This event will help practitioners to define and market the value-add of the services that they offer to employers. Hear what employers say works and what does not.

THESE TRAININGS ARE OPEN TO STAFF FROM ALL OSY, ISY, SYEP, YAIP & FATHERHOOD PROVIDERS AT NO COST.

ALL WORKSHOPS RUN FROM 9:00AM - 5:00PM UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED

THESE PROGRAMS WILL CLOSE AT 32 PARTICIPANTS, SO REGISTER SOON!

Visit www.workforceprofessionals.org to sign up for these events.

11 Park Place,
Suite 701
New York, NY 10007
t 646.278.5696
f 646.278.5699